NO LOVE FEAST FOR JIM TAWNEY

BIG FIGHT AGAINST CONGRESS-MAN, WHO IS RIGHT BOWER OF UNCLE JOE CANNON.

(Special from United Press.) Owattana, Minn., Dec. 30.—That there s going to be a big fight against James A. Tawney in his next campaign for Congress is the belief today, following a "love feast" banquet here, during which the ally of Cannon was unsparingly denounced to his face. The denunciation was uttered by Thomas Kelley of Owattana, who is expected to oppose Tawney for the Republican nomination.

"As far as I am concerned," said Kelley, "this meeting is no love feast between Jim Tawney and me."

Kelley then drew from his pocket a typewritten record of Tawney's Congressional career and proceeded with apparent delight to shatter the intended harmony to splinters.

Louis M. Lund, $18 Noble avenue, Michael Gella of 1470 Pembroke street and Stephen Jontos of 401 Gregory street were in the city court this morning charged with selling kerosene oil without a license in violation of city ordinance 224. Jontos and Lund pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and their friends are invited. street were in the city court this morning charged with selling kerosene oil without a license in violation of city ordinance 224. Jontos and Lund pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs which they paid. The trial of Gella was continued until January 17. He pleaded not guilty.

Chief Mooney was the complaining witness. He testified that he had made out licenses for Lund and Jontos and warned them that they would be prosecuted and fined if they did not get a license.

The defense was that the accused considered they were paying enough money to the city in the way of taxes and they were unwilling to pay any more. They said they did not sell enough oil to pay them to take out a license.

Judge Foster in fining the men said that as Chief Mooney had gone to the trouble of having an ordinance enacted to prevent fires, citizens should consider it their duty to assist him. He said the evidence showed that the men knew very well that they ought to take out a license and there was no excuse for their failure to do so. no excuse for their fallure to do so.

No license is granted to a grocery, or other merchant who sells oil, unless the conditions in which the oil
